To: Site owners in search of a complete Design Build Package from Concepts, Design and Complete Construction

I have enjoyed working with Riley Palmer Construction Company. The ideas they came up with, the care, dedication and patience they exhibited in working with me and their flexibility as the project evolved was wonderful. I owe my gratitude to Riley Palmer and his management team consisting of Sutton Webb and Bill Benners. Their care, honesty and experience made this project come together so nicely. The sub-contractors they used on my project did good work and were easy to work with. The cost for the project was kept in line and there were very few surprises. With their help we were able to accomplish a great project that gives our store a cutting edge design. As one realtor put it, we have a "signature building" in town and unique to our industry. I am very pleased with Riley Palmer and the job his company completed for my business. I would highly recommend them for any construction project anyone wants to build, because I have confidence in their ability to handle difficult projects.

Building our store with my idea of making the entire first floor showroom area (4000 square feet) a Class 1 Vault was complicated and a new idea for the construction of a jewelry store. Having 12 inches of concrete for the walls, floor and ceiling on all six sides of the building with no first floor windows was different. They listened to my ideas and worked out just how to make them into reality. Approximately 200,000 pounds of rebar was used in the building. Setting so many layers of rebar in place made for an unusual challenge. The results of their effort are evident daily by the compliments we receive when people walk in our store as well as the high security rating for the building we received from my insurance company.

I spoke to several customers who had experience in constructing their homes or buildings for their businesses. Riley Palmer's name came up again and again from these people. The permitting, design and building process is complicated and needs a combined effort by a team of people managed by a leader who has the experience to take control of the project. From what I have learned, the only one who can accomplish this is a very good experienced and caring contractor. I decided I must make a decision to trust someone or I would never get started. I decided to put my trust in Riley Palmer and his company. I am very happy that I did. Please come by our store and see for yourself what they accomplished.
